

NEIGHBOURHOOD DESCRIPTION

Originally established in 1912, Jasper Park is one of a number of neighbourhoods that were part of the Town of Jasper Place and were later annexed by Edmonton in 1964.

Development of the neighbourhood began in earnest during the 1950s and continued into the 1960s. The neighbourhood's grid system of streets and large lots is typical of many subdivisions of the period. Single-detached homes comprise about half of all residential units in the neighbourhood, and a number of apartments are located along two of its borders; 149 Street and 87 Avenue.

Jasper Park has three schools, and several parks. Residents have easy access to a variety of shopping and commercial facilities along 149th Street, which form the neighbourhood's eastern border, very good access to Meadowlark Park Shopping Centre, and easy accessibility to West Edmonton Mall.
